Clarifies Policy

Power Politics Are 'Long Dead'

Says U.S. Envoy

By B. T. RICHARDSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 8.—The balance of power notion of world organization is "long since dead, as dead as the night in armor or the Roman Empire," according to Ray Atherton, American ambassador to Canada, in a speech to the Sherbrooke, Que., Rotary club today.

Mr. Atherton devoted most of his speech to explaining "the American philosophy of international relations" as set forth recently by Cordell Hull, U.S. secretary of state.

Mr. Hull's statement last March 21 said Mr. Atherton "describes the very foundations upon which we believe, the structure of a peaceful and prosperous post-war world must be built." In using the opportunity to define U.S. foreign policy, the ambassador couched the American rejection of balance of power politics with a statement that the Moscow declaration is a very vague and far-reaching statement.

Planes Are Sought

To Bomb Ice Jam

DAWSON, Y.T., May 8.—(CP)—Arrangements were being made today to have United States aircraft come from Fairbanks, Alaska, in an attempt to bomb the Yukon river ice jam here.

Extending for 20 miles below here, the spring break-up is flooding part of the city and a number of families have been driven from their homes. The Arcade Cafe and Royal Alexander hotel were a foot of water on their floors.

Other ice jams from Stewart and Coburn Creek, on the Yukon, are expected to reach here soon.

Arthur Greenwood

Threatens to Quit

LONDON, May 8.—(AP)—Arthur Greenwood has threatened to resign as leader of the parliamentary Labor Party if disciplinary action is not taken against Anwar Ibrahim.

Mr. Ibrahim was expelled from the government but on strike against the government, he said today.

Windsor, Ont., May 8.—(CP)—The National War Labor Relations Board will meet in Ottawa tomorrow to "implement and clarify the grievance procedure" to be followed in the vast war vehicle-manufacturing plants of the Ford Motor Company of Canada which has been closed for all but two days since April 29 in a dispute with Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers of America.

In making the announcement here today, Mr. Justice O'Connor, U.S. Supreme Court justice, said that the real difficulty lies far deeper than the mere argument over grievance procedure.

"There has been a general failure to co-operate. The policy should be to have a satisfactory and constant dispute," he said.

Justice O'Connor, who arrived in Ottawa Saturday and since then has held a series of conferences with both sides in the dispute, made his announcement in a statement which was accompanied by a communication to him from both the company and the union.

Of Forest Fire

Possibility that a forest fire in the Rocky Mountain House area was started by crash of a training aircraft from No. 36 Service Flying Training School, was suggested Monday by provincial forestry officials at Edmonton.

The fire, which started suddenly and swept over six sections of forest, is claimed to be under control, and forest rangers and fire-fighters are searching the area for possible traces of a plane from the Penhold base. The aircraft has been missing since Thursday night, and the forestry department has asked the forestry department to search for the aircraft.

Alberta Plans

2 Big Bridges

For This Year

Plans to construct two steel highway bridges in Alberta this year, at an approximate cost of a half-million dollars, were announced Monday by Hon. W. A. Fallick, minister of public works.

The bridges are to be built across the Athabasca River at Smith, Highway No. 2, and across the North Saskatchewan River at Calgary, Highway No. 1.

At the present time, ferries cross the river at both Smith and Rocky Mountain House.

"If we are fortunate enough to have both these bridges built this year, it will eliminate two of the worst traffic bottlenecks in the province, and provide a service which has been badly needed for a long time," Mr. Fallick stated, in announcing the decision to build the bridges.

Funds for construction of the spans will be provided out of capital account. At the last session of the Legislature, the sum of $35,000 was voted for bridge construction.

LONDON, May 8.—(AP)—The prime ministers of the British Empire issued a statement today endorsing the "Beat-Hitler-First" strategy of the Allies has won their whole approval, while they warned that the invasion campaign, proceeding in an all-out, all-embracing manner, kept the Germans guessing about when and where the climactic blow would be struck.

Endorsement of the United Nations' global war policy was announced by Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Australia, who urged on behalf of his country that the Pacific not be forgotten while Germany is being conquered.

LONDON, May 8.—The steady intensifying air bombardment of western Europe continued without pause as fleets of R.A.F. and U.S. Mosquitoes, Spitfires and Typhoons fighter-bombers swept across the channel late today attacking targets in France.

Targets picked up the mounting attack where Allied medium bombers left off in a day of constant, widespread attacks on the Nazi Atlantic wall defences, communications and supply centres.

The day began with a smashing attack on Berlin by large formations of Allied bombers and Allied fighters for the second time in 24 hours, which carried the pre-invasion aerial barrage into its fourth week.

Another 2,000 tons of block bombs and fire bombs were dropped on the German capital.

LONDON, May 8.—(CP)—Moscow tonight said the storming of Sevastopol was being carried out by Russian troops.

The communiqué said the assault on the heavily fortified enemy port was started Sunday and "in two days of bitter fighting our troops have broken enemy resistance."

Russian troops have broken through the main line of the "widely developed and well-informed concrete fortifications," advanced nearly four miles and captured heights dominating the city, and have taken the beleaguered city, said the communiqué.

The Crimean base, held by German and Romanian garrison estimates for the last two years, was an army artillery fire since mid-April.

Heaviest Assault

Air Blows Batter Berlin, Bucharest

Four Unions Accent Wage Offer by City prominently 200 employees in the fire and fire departments outstanding.

The Fire Fighters' union and the Police association were offered the same settlement as the other unions, but this was not acceptable and to reach an amicable settlement and avoid a strike to a board the commissioners offered the following increases to the department employees. All employees of these departments below the rank of first class fireman and first class constable an increase in the basic wage rate of $18.50 a month to all employees in or above such rank an increase in the basic rate of $20 a month instead of the $18.50 increase.

This offer has been rejected by the two unions affected and the rejection is supported by the Federation of Civic Employees. It stands by the federation was taken at a meeting held Thursday of last week.

CONTINUE NEGOTIATIONS

That meeting decided that "the federation notify the commissioners that four unions are accepting the present offer of the commissioners, and request that the city make effective forthwith for these organizations, provided, however, that the police and fire unions be permitted to continue negotiations further with the city, and that the federation give their fullest support to the dissenting unions."

The commissioners in their report point out the adjustments made in the negotiations in lowering the monthly rate increase into hourly rates amount to approximately $2.00 a month, together with the extra offer made to the firemen and policemen amounting to approximately $1,200 each, exceeds the limit of $175,000 wage increase set by the council by approximately $24,000.

The unions that have completed negotiations and the negotiating committee are of the opinion that the general wage structure of employees of the city of Edmonton as now adjusted is more or less settled for the duration of the war except as it may be disturbed by an increase in the cost-of-living as outlined in P.C. order No. 1127 of March 13, 1944, outlining a statement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King which reads in part as follows:

"The government will endeavor to keep the cost of living from rising more than the three per cent mentioned. We shall stand by its pledge that if the cost-of-living exceeds the level of October, 1943, by more than three per cent and remains at this higher figure for two consecutive months the government will review the whole program."

The commissioners recommend that the agreements reached with the four unions be confirmed and payment authorized retroactive to Jan. 1, 1944; that the increases granted be made applicable to all employees except the members of the police and fire unions, and that the offer made to the Firemen's union and the Police association be confirmed and resubmitted for their acceptance.

The negotiating committee for the city was composed of Deputy Mayor Fred J. Mitchell, City Commissioner A. J. Gibb, and City Controller A. A. Campbell.

Decision to abandon the proposed bridge replacement at Adelaide boulevard with an earthfill is being reported following a meeting with Deputy Mayor Mitchell, six aldermen and a number of residents in the district.

REDECKING PLANNED

It is now proposed that the existing bridge be carried over by a concrete and stringer replacement until such time as a new reinforced concrete structure can be put in. It is difficult to estimate the cost of work such as the proposed redecking and stringer installation, the commissioners report, but it will be approximately $4,000.

Gestapo Starts War of Trickery To Make Patriots Act Prematurely

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—The Gestapo has loosed a war of trickery on the Allied underground in Europe, trying to lure Allied sympathizers into exposing themselves—and being liquidated—before the invasion troops roll in.

The United States office of war information reported today that the Nazis and their satellites have issued false "orders" in the name of the Allies, dropped bogus leaflets from planes with R.A.F. markings, and had Nazi agents masquerade as "Allied flyers" trying to escape from Germany.

The effort to bring patriots out into the open prematurely has been marked, O.W.I. said, by the issuance of "resistance directives" for the underground newspapers and the launching of various "resistance movements."

"Sabotage of installations without strategic importance—as well as attacks on persons without affiliation—have been carried out and then attributed to the underground, thus laying the basis for popular wrath and creating an opportunity for 'reprisals,' O.W.I. reported.

Goebbels Changes Line Nazis Bolster Home Front With Reports of Atrocities

By WADY WERNER

LISBON, May 8.—(AP)—Nazi Germany has launched a new atrocity campaign on a broad front, not so much in acts of commission, but in charges against the Allies.

Heretofore the Nazis have relied largely on Allied post-war plans for an armistice with which to scare Germans into a belated resistance. Now they plan to dismember Germany, all suggestions that Germans must be reeducated by foreigners, and demand that Germans be blueprinted or transported to Russia to rebuild war-torn areas; all blueprints for permanent dismantling of Germany's key industries were given the widest possible circulation in Germany.

Intensified air warfare, however, apparently has neutralized the effectiveness of such hypocritical insinuations.

NAZIS SAY "SO WHAT"

German workers whose factories and homes have just been destroyed by bombs probably are saying "so what" to news that the Allies are planning to transform Germany into an agricultural land. Strongly

Accordingly, propaganda Minister Goebbels' writers are taking full advantage of the fact that Germany now is on the retreat and in a position to talk about the "ruthlessness" of enemy occupying forces.

The biggest splash on front pages is being given to reports of Finnish barbarities of Soviet troops, and accompanying Goppa detachments in Poland, the Ukraine and Bessarabia. The reports reach fantastic heights of sadistic description.

Newspaper accounts give clear indication that German morale is sinking so low the Nazis feel they must convince the man in the street that a fate worse than death awaits his children if Germany capitulates.

U.S. Blacklists 38 Irish Firms For Aiding Foe

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—The United States Saturday night blacklisted 38 Irish firms and businessmen accused of aiding the enemy.

The action was the first taken by this government to express through economic measures its disapproval of Irish aid to Germany in February not to reject Axis officials' requests for supplies by the Allies.

Never before has any Irish firm been blacklisted, although concern in many other neutral countries in both this hemisphere and the European area had been put on the record which now totals approximately 15,000 names.

ASSISTING ENEMY

Blacklisting means that government officials consider they have adequate evidence to believe that the firms are co-operating with the enemy in a manner as to contribute to the support of its war machine.

The sanctions applied range from denial of all facilities to such firms in the United States to the threat of post-war penalties which will place those firms at a competitive disadvantage in the early months of economic reconstruction.

The state department declined to say if any individual firm was blacklisted or to describe the activities of any firm.

Acute Shortage Of Workers Seen

TORONTO, May 8.—(CP)—In a letter to J. W. Temple, manager of the Toronto Employment and Selective Service office, Arthur Macnamara, Dominion deputy minister of labor, said that "Canada is moving into a 12-month period which will develop labor shortage on a scale undreamed of heretofore."

Already large numbers of men and women have had to be sent back into plants in which layoffs occurred a few months ago. Mr. Macnamara said in his letter. Nearly 250,000 men must be found for agriculture, 10,000 men and women for heavy steel manufacture, 2,000 men for base-metal mining. Packing plants are urgently in need of help, railways need men for shop and track work, foundries and implement plants are also short of men.

"Sabotage of installations without strategic importance—as well as attacks on persons without affiliation—have been carried out and then attributed to the underground, thus laying the basis for popular wrath and creating an opportunity for 'reprisals,' O.W.I. reported.

Canadians Preparing For Demobilization

CALGARY, May 8.—(CP)—Canada's demobilization plans in connection with demobilization of her fighting forces are much more extensive than any other country in the world, said Capt. Paul B. Cross, chief staff officer reserves and member of the royal Canadian navy, who arrived in Calgary Saturday on his first visit to western Canada.

In an interview, Capt. Cross, who received this appointment in January, said in connection he is responsible for the royal Canadian navy's demobilization and rehabilitation program.

Canada's rehabilitation program has been built on the principle that it will help not only those discharged from the services but also designed to build up the nation in the future. As a result education is being emphasized. If every man is trained or educated to the best of their ability it will be the best thing not only for themselves but also for the country as a whole.

WITH THE ALLIED 5TH ARMY BEACHHEAD FORCES, May 8.—(CP)—One of the underground headquarters on this beachhead was dug by Canadian engineers, a section of a Canadian drilling company which has been here since the start of the Sicilian campaign and has done special jobs throughout liberated areas of Italy.

This company repaired the road north of Termine in Sicily by drilling into a sheer cliff face and since has been engaged mostly on the British 8th Army front in Italy.

The men are mostly hard-rock miners from Northern Ontario and Quebec. They are under command of Lieut. Archie Corrie, a mining engineer, formerly of Winnipeg, whose home now is in Beardmore, Ont.

The beachhead is honeycombed with soft sandstone formations, and Canadians in their excavations often come upon ancient Roman works. They have found pottery of a primitive type which is believed to pre-date the Romans.

Above were familiar features of the beachhead—military positions camouflaged against observation but not immune from enemy planes. A severe rainstorm of any time. Muscular men, stripped to the waist were drilling the rock.

Because the rock is so soft, they were obliged to drill only one-third as many holes as in hard-rock mining. They were assisted by a party of United States engineers who were mainly engaged in carrying away rubble while learning mining technique from the Canadians.

The President's recommendations were forwarded a few hours after Senator Allen Ellender (Dem., La.) had urged that the United States fix now a policy on final lend-lease settlements.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress Saturday to appropriate $3,500,000 to carry forward the lend-lease program for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1945.

He also requested that any unexpended balances of previous lend-lease appropriations be made available, which would make the aggregate for the new year $7,188,000.

A Lead for Edmonton

A group of Montreal people have apparently found out how to finance the building of low-rental houses with Dominion assistance up to 90 per cent of the total capital outlay.

When the matter came up in parliament the Minister of Finance said he hoped the Montreal undertaking would "serve as a model and encourage public-spirited citizenship in Ottawa and elsewhere." He also organized for the same purpose. The Government would be prepared to consider favorably the extending of the plan to Ottawa and any other centre where this is done.

"This should be of interest to people in Edmonton, and to the cities of private organizations can secure the measure of assistance from the federal treasury, there is no reason to suppose like assistance would be denied to them. The financing of any housing scheme based on its needs, present and definitely prospective. The broad conclusion is that there is no longer any financial 'bottleneck' to house-building.

Edmonton's council should look to the Montreal project, either with a view to starting a municipal scheme, or to obtain full information available to private citizens. Edmonton needs low-rental houses. The Dominion is willing to loan 90 per cent of the cost of construction. Dominion labor and material supplies restrict the speed with which the needed houses can be brought into being.

Let's Finish the Job

Edmonton has been lagging in the Victory Loan procession. Sales here at the end of the second week were away below the per centage for the province, and for the Dominion. This is another way of saying that not enough money has been bought bonds, or that the purchasers have not bought as heavily on the average as people elsewhere.

The corrective of course is more buyers, and more generous buying, in the closing days of the campaign. This is to be expected, for Edmonton has not started, ever, among the cities "out in front" in the early stages of a bond drive, but has always reached and passed its quota. It will undoubtedly reach the mark this time also.

It is by no means the strongest reason for buying bonds, but it is none the less worth noting that the present campaign is in some measure affected by its response to this nation-wide appeal for bonds. This city is by no means the least of the months one of the busiest places in all Canada. Employment is not only general, but almost universal. The business turn-over has been enormous, and the degree of activity here has been due to the spending of money raised through bond sales. A corresponding proportion of the proceeds of the present issue will be spent here.

For these reasons, as well as because Victory bonds are a safe and profitable investment, it is to be hoped that the campaign can be financed, all Edmonton people can be so should buy bonds, and buy as many as they can pay for.

Remember Our Prisoners

Col. Ralston, Acting Prime Minister, speaks words of solemnity to the members of parliament the other day on the feasibility of discussing at present what should be done with the Japanese residing in Canada, and to the treatment of them. Thousands of Canadian prisoners of war are in Japanese hands that is a subject which must be handled with tactfully by public representatives.

Most Canadians have quite positive views on the question and no harm may come of unofficial expression of these views. But members of parliament appear with official status, and what they say is likely to be interpreted as indicating what the policy of the country is to be. What is known as to the treatment of them.

There is only too much reason to suspect that Tokyo would be glad to come any excuse to cut down ratings, or otherwise save money and materials and bother by skimping the provision it makes for prisoners of war. Nor it is to be feared that overt acts of mistreatment seem agreeable to the Japanese nation.

Remembering the things the loss that is said in parliament that increase Japanese feeling against our prisoners, or those of any of the Allied nations, the better these men—and they are being held in Japanese power. We cannot at present release them. But nothing should be said in official circles which might make them feel still harder than V-J.

Quebec Banks One Reform

Premier Godbout of Quebec stated that he is negotiating with the Dominion Government with a view to having the pension age reduced from seventy years to sixty-five. Quebec has been regarded by other provinces as being rather indifferent on the subject of social legislation. More ordinary signs of progress have been in its endorsement of the proposal to cut down the age limit for pensioners.

Any other province whose government does not back the proposal will have to admit that it is more reactionary than Quebec.

It is to be hoped Premier Godbout is also having something to say in support of the idea that the pension scale should be revised upward. The pension rate in Quebec was stated by one member of the legislature to be $17.62 per month. Presumably in basic is the minimum. If so, the old pension—at any rate—in that province is hopelessly out of line with present-day cost of living. A rate of $50 per month is not much to provide for a person having no other income. Quebec may be an exception, but in most parts of Canada that is the ground on which a man or woman can live in reasonable comfort.

Both as to the pension age and the pension scale, the provinces have a legitimate right to present their views, so long as they have to help meet the cost. There is no reason to assume that the Dominion would refuse to agree to both a lower pension age and a $50 per month maximum rate. The provinces can join to urge these changes. But the Dominion has not tried to force the hands of the provincial authorities, and unless these sponsor the changes there is little prospect of the two-way revision being made immediately.

Soviet Charges 102,000 Persons Slain by Nazis

LONDON, May 8.—(C.P.)—More than 102,000 civilians and prisoners of war were murdered by the Germans in the Rovno region of pre-war Poland, a Soviet extraordinary commission for investigation of German atrocities charged yesterday. It named 102,000 bodies showed evidence of having been tortured.

The commission declared in a 5,000-word statement that many persons were forced to dig their own graves and that some of 102,000 bodies showed evidence of having been tortured.

The statement, broadcast by Moscow radio, said some 40,000 bodies were found in the timber dump in Byeli street in Rovno, and 25,000 were in the allotments (vegetable gardens). Five hundred were in the territory of Rovno prison.

WITNESSES QUOTED
The commission quoted one witness:

"I frequently saw how Ukrainians, Russians, Poles and Jews—Soviet citizens—were killed. They usually were brought to the place of execution, forced to dig their graves and then forced to dig up and face down in the graves."

They were shot in the back of the head with tommy guns. Then another layer of people were thrown over the bodies and the bodies were covered in a layer of earth.

PLACE RESPONSIBILITY
The report said in the report as responsible for the crimes were:
"The government of Hitler Germany."
"Reichsmarschall Rosenberg."
"The General Commissar of Volynia and Podlaskie."
"His deputy, Schulz."

When Conflict Ends Pre-War Living Standard Great Britain's First Aim

Economic stability in the United States is to be the first aim of British economic policy after the war, according to a statement by the British government.

By HAROLD B. BUTLER
Written for the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—The first aim of British economic policy after the war will be to regain the pre-war standard of living.

For more than four years the whole people has been existing on a lower standard of living. Its clothing has been so drastically cut that most people's wardrobes are looking very bare; some people have wooden-soled shoes. The standard of living is so low that it is not possible to have a standard of living.

Precision Bombing Takes Heavy Toll

LONDON, May 8.—(C.P.)—The R.A.F.'s new night precision bombing technique, which the entire Canadian bomber group has applied on two occasions, is playing a part in the disruption of Hitler's second night rail communications.

Since February when the development was introduced there have been more than 40 of these raids which concentrate 100 tons of bombs on small but important targets. The attacks now are being delivered against railroads on which the Germans depend for communication with their western defence.

Photographs of the results show the yards were not merely attacked but obliterated and important "bottleneck" factories on which the heaviest bombs have been "pin-pointed" have disappeared.

This precision bombing, in which both heavy and fast light bombers are employed, is an important result of the development of path-finding and has been made possible by technical improvements as well as the R.A.F.'s wealth of war experience.

The German vessel ran aground off the coast of the R.A.F. last week.

Yesterday's communiqué reported light forces commanded by D.C. Cdr. T. N. Cartwright, D.S.C., R.N.V.R. torpedoed the Elbing and ships and completed her destruction.

Enemy shore batteries opened fire but all British ships returned in harbor without damage or casualties.

SMITHERS, B.C., May 8.—(C.P.)—Fire destroyed the greater part of one block in the Main street business section here Saturday night when a blaze which started from a gas-burner, coffee maker spread from a restaurant to a tailor shop, a grocery store, a bakery and a meat market. The building and most of their stock were a total loss. Fire equipment from a forestry station and a nearby airport were all called into service in the two-hour battle which finally checked the blaze. Damage has not been estimated.

inspecting defenses along the southern coast of France.

(The U.S. office of war information reported that German troops, dressed as Allied paratroopers, were dropped by parachute on occupied territory. Patrols who attempted to help them were arrested, the report said.)

These developments contributing to the growing tension in Britain and Axis Europe with the obvious approach of yet zero hour for invasion included.

1.—Discourse that British and American forces rehearsing for the invasion just have completed the greatest airborne landing in history.

2.—An article in the semi-official Russian publication "War and the Working Class," warning that the time has now come out for the preparations for co-ordinated blows from the east and west have been completed.

3.—German propaganda threats of a continuation of British and American forces rehearsing for the invasion just have completed the greatest airborne landing in history.

USE GREAT SECRECY
The precise nature of the exercises by glider and troop carrier forces were conducted with such secrecy that even American newspapers were not permitted to witness them.

It is said that the American glider forces, landed by day and British by night, similar to the bombing schedule, were not being carried out by the air forces of the United States.

Air Chief Marshal Sir Trafford Leigh-Mallory, invasion air commander, told participating crews that "one of the great moments of the invasion will be the moment when you will soon carry out yourselves that air-borne forces are the most powerful weapons in modern warfare, and they will become increasingly important with each new operation."

DIFFICULT TASK AHEAD
It is fully realized that a difficult task lies ahead of you and that it requires a very high state of training to land in the right spot and to do the most to harass the enemy, but I have the greatest confidence that you will put on a great show."

German threats of a counter-invasion of Britain were heightened by the arrival of Maj. Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's troops units on the Cherbourg peninsula of France opposite the English coast.

Propaganda Minister Paul Goto's dispatch to the London News-Chronicle said Goebbels was telling neutral countries that the German troops were in Britain "to disorganize Allied preparations in Britain and spread panic among the invasion troops, who have been kept waiting too long."

HOME GUARD ALERT
British officials, from Prime Minister Churchill down, have warned in the past that Germany may attempt a counter-invasion to upset the Allies' western front schedule. However, the volunteer "home guard" of business and professional men and laborers, still more than 1,000,000 strong, has been placed on extra alert against parachuting saboteurs and raiding forces.

The Bulletin's Great Stretch Run Gives Pensive Victory

by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

EDDIE ARCARO had no greater success in chalking up his third Kentucky Derby win Saturday than George Woolf had in cupping his first, but the Alberta "Ice-man" did look to be home free until Conn McCreevy brought up Pensive with that great closing rush.

Trainer Ben Jones is now tied with "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons as the only trainer to have won the Kentucky Derby three times. Fitz got his in 1930, 1935 and 1938, while Jones' other two were in 1934 and 1941.

The late H. J. (Dick) Thompson, by saddling four—all for E. R. Bradley, 1921, 1926, 1932 and 1933—holds the record.

Saturday's gross of $86,700 was just $100 over the previous high established by Shut Out in 1942. Pensive net earnings today were $803 above Mrs. Wayne Whitely's take two years ago.

FASTBALL WEDNESDAY

BIG events on the local sport front this week are the Alaskan dog boxing tournament—which, by the way, looks decidedly promising with nine teams on the job for tonight's high-stakes evening—and the opening of the local football season on Wednesday.

Anabelle Thompson, who pitched for Racine last year's winners in the girls' pro circuit and Betty Carver, are expected to carry the brunt of the pitching load for Walk-Rites this season. Coach Murray Saldman will name his starting chucker tonight, and will, of course, have to take into account the opposition on Wednesday.

Highlands and Mayfair, early season giants of the annual inter-city cup competition, will meet Sunday and the home of the Mayfair Cup for the first time in 10 years to turn on the outcome—judging by yesterday's results, it is reported to be a close one.

Locals And No. 2 A.O.S. Beat Penhold Airmen Win In Cricket Matches

The No. 36 Service Flying Training School English cricketers from Penhold made their trip to Edmonton successful over the week-end by knocking over No. 2 Air Observer School and the local club.

In a close game on Sunday, the visitors defeated the locals by a margin of 81 for seven wickets to 87. The wicket favored the bowlers from the start and runs were hard to get.

J. V. Edwards showed the way for the locals with 32 runs which was also high for the game. F.O. Roberts had another good day for the locals, taking five wickets for 40 runs and appeared to be one of the best bowlers to play in the match in the past few years.

K. Higgins bowled well for Penhold and with a shade of luck would have had a far better average than his three for 27.

Following is the box score:

Edmonton: W. B. Dever, b. Roberts 2; Tapscott, b. Roberts 11; F. P. Fitch, b. Randall, Hamdale 10; C. Thompson, b. Roberts 10; V. Edwards, b. Roberts 10; R. D. Thompson, b. Randall 10; Higgins, b. Jones 10; Hamdale, not out 19; Extras 19.

Total: 187.

Penhold: M. Dever, b. Roberts 11; Tapscott, b. Roberts 11; F. P. Fitch, b. Randall, Hamdale 10; C. Thompson, b. Roberts 10; V. Edwards, b. Roberts 10; R. D. Thompson, b. Randall 10; Higgins, b. Jones 10; Hamdale, not out 19; Extras 19.

Total: 106.

Athletics Trade

Wagner to Boston

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—(AP)—The Athletics traded pitcher Wagner to Boston Red Sox yesterday for outfielder Fred Garrison. Wagner, who caught 111 games last year and has been a reserve for Frank Hayes this season, recently was accepted by the Sox but has not been told when he will be called for active service.

Total: Garrison hit .279 in 36 games for Boston last year after coming up from Louisville.

Regatta Ends In Double Bath

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP)—Plans to have been the first regatta of the eastern United States collegiate season ended in a double bath Saturday when both the Eastern and Navy shells capsized in a triangular meet with Cornell, founded and sank during the regatta. None of the athletes were injured.

$65,200 for Winner's End Is New High

BY ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, May 8.—(AP)—Pensive, the horse that almost didn't go to the Kentucky Derby, struck from behind in the final eighth of the race to win the 70th and richest of all derbies in the silks of Warren Wright's Chelmer Farm.

The spot of the 1953 Kentucky Derby winner, Hyperion, bounded nearly 10 lengths in front of Mrs. George Poulson's Broadcloth from Los Angeles.

New Penn's victory's Stir Up, 22 favorite of a crowd of 63,000, trailed by another length and just managed to save third money from Shut Out of Salor Joe Goldmans before the stretch.

In chalking up the second derby victory for Wright and the third for training, the 11-year-old gelding, Mo, Conn McCreevy guided Pensive over the 1 1/4 miles in 2:01.3 for his initial triumph in the three-year-old class.

Jones also added Whirlaway when he won at Whittier's devious red and blue silks in 1941 and previously carried with Herbert B. Woolf's Lasar in 1938.

With 16 of the 19 overnight entries starting, the race had a gross still on tap for the post-judge $65,200, it is in Wright's pocket. The previous high was in 1942 when the $66,200 purse for Mrs. Whitely.

Being on the track, Mo was in 1929 when Clyde Van Dusen won. The field was the largest since War Admiral whipped 19 rivals in the 1937 derby.

Second choice in the betting that had eight of the starters coming in the field Pensive paid $162 for $2 win ticket and returned $2.10 to place and $4.10 to show. Broadcloth paid $6.80 to place and $14.00 to show, while the show on Stir Up was $2.00.

From a good start, M. J. Goffa Skyrocketed past front, but he was held back by the post-judge $65,200, it is in Wright's pocket. The previous high was in 1942 when the $66,200 purse for Mrs. Whitely.

Meanwhile, Pensive was almost lost in the pack, running 12th at the quarter, and was brought out by the post-judge $65,200, it is in Wright's pocket. The previous high was in 1942 when the $66,200 purse for Mrs. Whitely.

At the half Pensive had only six horses behind and Davaloud was in the lead, but he was brought out by the post-judge $65,200, it is in Wright's pocket. The previous high was in 1942 when the $66,200 purse for Mrs. Whitely.

By the time the race was over, McCreevy had taken Pensive to the outside and started to pour it on. From 16th at the half mile post he moved up to fifth and finished fourth.

Following is the box score:

Edmonton: W. B. Dever, b. Roberts 2; Tapscott, b. Roberts 11; F. P. Fitch, b. Randall, Hamdale 10; C. Thompson, b. Roberts 10; V. Edwards, b. Roberts 10; R. D. Thompson, b. Randall 10; Higgins, b. Jones 10; Hamdale, not out 19; Extras 19.

Aston Villa Takes League Cup

England Beats Wales 2-0 In Soccer International

LONDON, May 8.—(CP Cable)—England defeated Wales 2-0 in the Football International and Aston Villa won the League North Cup from Blackpool, defending champions, by a round score of 5-1, as Britain's fifth wartime soccer season ended on the eve of invasion.

England maintained a wartime superiority in the international before a crowd of 50,000 at Cardiff, when Tom Lawton, Everton flash, scored a goal in the first half, and Smitty Smith, Brentford winger, scored a low shot in the last 20 minutes of the finish.

Both sides made a last-minute dressing-room choice of players, because of doubt as to which of the designated players in the service could turn out and the game was considerably below international standards.

Aston Villa captured the North Cup with a 4-2 win in their home league match with Blackpool, giving them the two-game round total of 5-1. Villa lost the first game last week at Blackpool, 2-1.

More than 55,000 persons packed into the park while thousands of others were turned away from the jammed gates. A riot in the football, Blackpool fielded the team of the week.

Ed Bromie scored twice for Villa in the second half, while the other two goals were scored by the other two.

Both City and Wrexham finished the League North standing with 24 points each but both lost the league championship on the basis of a better goal average.

Bath beat Cardiff 4-2 in the first of a two-game total goal series for the League West cup, a secondary trophy. The game also counted in the League North standings.

More than 30,000 watched the thirteenth round of the Scottish Football League, with the first of the first round of the Scottish Football League, with the first of the first round of the Scottish Football League.

TORONTO, May 8.—(CP)—Some ambitious plans have been made for post-war hockey, but even the most pious had to take a back seat to the need for a preview of the N.H.L. in years to come. The league is expected to be organized by the end of the year.

There's no doubt that the fans would take to such an idea as a youngster takes to ice cream, but whether the players will be able to stand it is another matter.

Hockey is a lot tougher game than baseball, which made the doubleheader an institution. To make this possible he predicted, team rosters will be limited to 25 or more—perhaps.

New Commander U.S. Army Here Takes Over Post

Former supervisor of construction work on the Ledsa road being built to connect with the old Burns road, and open the ground route to China, from April to November of 1943, Col. Frederick S. Strong, has taken over command here of the Northwest Service Command, United States Army. He succeeds Brig-Gen. L. D. Worsham who left Saturday for Washington where he has been posted to increasingly important duties.

The new commanding officer was formerly chief engineer of the services of supply activities for the U.S. Army Air Forces in the China-India-Burma area.

Colonel Strong said there is little comparison between the construction of the Ledsa road and the Alaska Highway, as military operations make quite a difference. He stated there was little he could say about the work as construction is so intimately connected with tactical operations that it is just about as secret as the operations. He said he had to leave the east for he thought it was "the most interesting thing to see" but the most important problem, but it has more down-to-earth, and more practical than any other.

"Until the ground route to China is open all supplies have to be taken over 'the hump'. Airmen are doing a very fine job."

He met Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, leader of the famous "Flying Tigers," and said of him, "In my opinion there is no better fellow to run the 14th Air Force than he. He is a very fine job."

Col. Strong left the east just before the Allied drive down the Hukawng Valley but said he saw preparations being made for the operation which was under the command of Lt-Gen. Joseph "Uncle

YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW

"H'American soldier like camel ride, not near so bad H'American jeep."

Joe Stillwell, Col. Strong said he had been used in the construction work on the Ledsa road was American, and that the common laboring was done by natives. "I didn't learn to speak Hindustani," he said, "for I found the natives could speak English better than I could their language."

PICTURES CHANGES

He said the picture of the Northwest Service Command had changed from one of construction to one of operation. He said there will be a curtailment in personnel as it will not require the number of people to operate the projects as it did to build them.

"The construction is practically completed," he said, "but there are certain operating functions which will have to continue." He pointed out that "it is not by any stretch of the imagination a military operation—it's more like a business." Colonel Strong was in northwest Canada in 1942 when the construction division took over supervision of the work from the troops division. He went north as far as Whitehorse and made suggestions for the organization and personnel. He said he would be leaving shortly for a tour of the installations in the command.

BORN IN MICHIGAN

Colonel Strong was born in Michigan in 1887 and makes his home in Orchard Lake, a suburb of Detroit. He said Mrs. Strong will continue to reside here but as she has never seen this part of Canada she will most likely make a visit here. One of his four children, Capt. F. Strong, is stationed with the U.S. Army at Camp Crozier, Missouri. A graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point,

City Gets Priority For Mosquito Oil

Priority for the purchase of 300 barrels of mosquito oil has been granted to the city of Edmonton by the Dominion oil controller for use in a mosquito nuisance abatement campaign this year. It was stated in the city commissioners' report being submitted to the city council Monday night.

This oil will be available for application to sloughs or other water surfaces providing labor man be supplied for applying it.

Recently the city engineer, A. W. Haddow, reported to council that it would not be possible to obtain equipment for a serious campaign against the mosquito this year. However, council instructed the commissioners to bring in a report on the carrying out of a modified campaign to be conducted in co-operation with interested organizations.

In the report from the commissioners it is suggested that watering cans might be used for applying this oil to water surfaces within the city limits that might be breeding places for mosquitoes.

New York, the Colonel was assigned to the Corps of Engineers in 1910. He served overseas with the Seventh and Second Divisions and later held command of the 116th Engineers after the Armistice in 1918.

He was an instructor at West Point at the time Brig-Gen. L. D. Worsham, whose place he takes here, was in the 116th.

In 1920, Colonel Strong resigned from the Army and was vice-president of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America in Chicago for a number of years. He returned to active duty in the army in 1931.

Shortly after being called to active duty Colonel Strong was made commanding officer of the fourth zone.

He said he is "very happy" to have been assigned to this area, "particularly at this time of year."

Speed His Release

This eye-catching drawing of a young Canadian prisoner of war was made by Victor Bodie, a New Zealand Air Force trainee at Edmonton. He sent his work along with the hope that it would help to sell more Victory bonds, one of the poster's intentions to effect the early release of our war prisoners.

British Guest Children Here Meet Visiting Officials at Reception

Second to take place in Edmonton since the arrival four years ago of British guest children, a reception attended by the children, their foster parents, and British officials administering the overseas guest children plan, was held at the Legislative Buildings Sunday evening.

The event marked the visit to this city of Miss Margaret Maxse, London, director of the British Children's Overseas Reception Board, and her Ottawa representative, Mrs. D. R. Archdale.

Miss Maxse, who is chairman of the British Women's Volunteer Service, succeeded Sir Geoffrey Shakespeare, originator of the guest children scheme, as its director. She is on tour of all Canadian centres where guest children are residing.

The reception was arranged by Charles R. Hill, superintendent of child welfare for Alberta, and Miss Joy Ruvcroft, provincial supervisor of British guest children. Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, attended on behalf of Premier Ernest Manning, while Deputy Premier Fred J. Mitchell represented the city of Edmonton. The department of public welfare was represented by A. A. Mackenzie, deputy minister.

Mr. Fallow, in a brief address of welcome to the visiting officials, extended greetings on behalf of the province. "There must have been many heart hugs when these children left the Old Land, and there will be heart hugs here when they return," he said.

When the "cessie fire" sounds on battlefronts of the world, great things are expected of the British guest children, said the minister. They will be ambassadors of goodwill between the old land and the new, and will use their persuasive powers to bring their parents and families to make their homes in this great land.

"This is a great land, capable of making wonderful homes. We are looking Old Country people to help us build it up, in the years following the war."

Paying tribute to the heroic defence of Britain by the Royal Air Force in the dark days following Dunkirk, Mr. Fallow said Old Countrymen dared to stand alone against the might of Germany and her Luftwaffe.

STOOD ALONE

"Great Britain stood alone, a bulwark between the old and new worlds, a barrier between a ruthless enemy who sought to destroy everything near and dear. When the store of the war is written, this will be the brightest page in history."

It is the hope of Canadians that when the war is over, our fighting men who have married in England will bring their brides to this country, and that our Canadian girls who have married Englishmen also will persuade their husbands to come to Canada, to help develop our boundless natural resources, Mr. Fallow remarked.

Introduced by Mr. Hill as a "little sister between the British children's parents and the children here," Miss Maxse of- ficially thanked Albertans for their kindness to the children in foster homes here.

"We are under a deep debt of gratitude to the province of Alberta," she said, "On behalf of the British government, I thank the and two girls who have returned to England to service there. Of the 55 children now in Alberta, 46 are with their original foster parents.

"The fact that 66 children are still with their original foster parents is a record of which Alberta may well be proud," said Miss Maxse.

Speaking to the children at the reception, she said, "some will be torn between going home and staying here. No one will make it any easier when the reception tour is ended."

The guest children are fortunate in that they now have two coun- cils, they may call their own, declared the speaker. "We are proud in England to think of the number of English boys who came over, and have now joined the Canadian forces, and are fighting for their adopted country."

Children at the reception ranged between the ages of nine and 14 years. They were interviewed by Miss Maxse, who took notes on cards presented to them. The cards will be given to parents in Britain, at interviews which will be arranged when the reception tour is ended.

From Edmonton, the officials will go to Calgary and other southern centres. On Monday they went with Mr. Hill to Wetaskiwin and Lacombe, to visit children in foster homes there.

City Schools Plan to Hold Music Events

Next festival in the present series being held throughout the city schools are scheduled to take place at Glenora and W. A. Gray public schools on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Final arrangements have been made and the pupils from the schools in each zone are looking forward to their first opportunity to visit each other, and demonstrate their proficiency in the various cultural phases of their regular school work.

The activities similar to those being displayed at other centres will include singing, folk-dancing, recitations, verse-speaking, and dramatics. Both centres have also arranged to exhibit art and samples of the work being done in the school vocational classes.

In keeping with the policy of the Edmonton Public School Festival Association, to encourage each zone to develop its festival in its own way, these zones have elected to use commentators.

Owen Williams, superintendent of schools for the Lethbridge district and well-known authority on school music will be in attendance to comment on the musical performances. Commentators for speech and physical education are respectively, Miss Marion Gimby, Greenwood, L. school, and Arthur Erickson of Edmonton Normal school.

INNOVATIONS

Schools in the H. A. Gray zone have introduced a number of innovations into their festival efforts. More than 1,000 invitations have been written by the pupils of H. A. Gray school to their "performing groups" and a like number of acceptance cards have been received. The co-operative enterprise will also be under the direction of student chairman, Chairman of the Tuesday afternoon session will be Keith Bennett, while 15-year-old Evelyn Olsen will be in charge of the proceedings Wednesday morning.

Because of limited accommodation at the above centres it is not expected that parents and friends will be able to witness the combined programs. However, most of the school plan to hold school receptions in their own auditoriums after the main festival in over.

A. J. Morrison, M.L.A. for Edmonton and secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, District 18, is a business visitor in Edmonton. He is a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Wives Forget That Husband Must Work

In Spite of Their Dependence on Husband's Earnings, Wives Become Jealous of Men's Attention To Work

A woman who says she is tired of playing second fiddle to her husband's business, wants to know if a man's first duty is to his wife, instead of his job. That is one of the questions that is being asked in the columns of Dorothy Dix. The answer, which she is likely to give, depends upon whether the wife considers her husband's duty to be a playboy or a good provider.

In spite of the curious quirks in feminine psychology that although practically every married woman's comfort and ease depends upon her husband's success in his work, she is jealous of his occupation as she is of his stream-lined secretary. So men, who see that the lady on the street is not only a playboy but also a playboy, she resents the order with which he changes her. If you will notice, you will observe that nearly all wives speak bitterly of their husbands' "old office" or "old factory," and bemoan the time they spend there and the interest they take in them.

WIFE SUSPICIOUS

In her secret soul the average wife is filled with deep dark suspicions of what goes on in the conferences that her husband goes into and which cannot be interrupted, even when he wants to telephone him that the baby has got a tooth, or that she has just had a letter from Mama saying she is coming to town.

Furthermore, when she goes into one of her own sessions of self-pity over the sad lot of a wife, her husband's letters are shown over to her. She will then ask a date with her to meet a buyer from Oklahoma, that he has always been sure to go on a business trip, but can't spare even a month to take her on a vacation, and then she will see that he comes home to take her to rest, instead of stopping out to a night club.

Being possessive by nature, a wife feels that she has a priority on her husband's time and interest in thoughts, and her idea is that his business should be only a sort of sideline to him, and that he should be able to make love with the other hand and money with the other.

IGNORES NECESSITY FOR HARD WORK

For she does not want to be deprived of a single minute of her husband's time, and she is sure that his business should be only a sort of sideline to him, and that he should be able to make love with the other hand and money with the other.

Of course, the wives who have husbands that put their jobs before them have much justification for their desire, for there are plenty of men who are more married to their pocketbooks or to their careers than they are to any woman. To them a wife is just a household convenience.

They get more thrill out of a ten percent rise in stocks than they do out of the birth of a new baby. And as long as they can squeeze their fingers through the cracks of their families are not perfectly satisfied.

All of which shows that we cannot have our cake and eat it, too. We must choose between a husband who is a playboy and a husband who is a good provider.

East won the right with the ten, and led the line of hearts. Mrs. Glick refused with the ten of spades and West, overruled with the eight and led a diamond, which both East and West followed. Now Mrs. Glick made the last two tricks.

Liquor Group Ends Public Hearing Here

Featured by strong protest of Mayor Andrew Davison of Calgary over statements published in the March issue of the "Alberta Temperance Review," the public hearings of the Alberta liquor investigation committee concluded at the Legislative Building Saturday afternoon.

Mayor Davison, Independent party M.L.A. for Calgary and one of three members of the committee, declared the statements in question were a "terrible charge against the Speaker of the Legislature," were "not true, are wrong and should be withdrawn in the publication's next issue."

SPEAKS FOR LABOR

First witness to appear at the Saturday sitting was Carl E. Berg, on behalf of a brief submitted by the Alberta Federation of Labor. Next to speak was the Rev. Ben Spence, representing the Associated Temperance Forces of Alberta.

It was in dying moments of Mr. Spence's submission that Mayor Davison protested against statements in the "Temperance Review."

The quotation in question follows:

"By a curious ruling that had all the earmarks of pre-arrangement, Speaker Dawson ruled the Wingblade amendment out of order, and more peculiar still, the members of the assembly, who on other less important issues had questioned the Speaker's ruling, accepted it now without the faintest demur."

"It would almost seem that this furnished an easy way by which they might drop this exceedingly 'hot potato' and be safe from the necessity of declaring themselves either for or against the policy of the Associated Temperance Forces."

The reference is to a debate which took place in the Legislature on March 21. Mr. Davison had introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of the liquor situation in Alberta. A sub-amendment to it was introduced by the Rev. J. A. Wingblade, Social Credit M.L.A. for Wetaskiwin, asking that the sale of beer except for on-premises consumption, be subject to the same requirements as to permits and purchase that now apply to other liquors, and that hours of sale of liquor be limited to eight hours in any one day.

Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson declared the sub-amendment out of order, on the grounds it was covered by a section of an amendment introduced by Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer.

Speaking at the morning sitting in support of the temperance brief, Mr. Spence told of 42,000 gallons of alcohol being consumed in Alberta last year.

Military statistics have shown 40 per cent of Canada's young men are physically unfit, and one cause of this is the use of alcohol, it was stated.

DISCUSSES STATISTICS
Discussing Alberta statistics for last year, Mr. Spence said there were 800 addicts, 1,200 convictions for drunkenness, 1,204 convictions for bootlegging, and the province's drink bill was $25,000,000.

Instead of liquor control, we have a highly developed liquor selling system, said Mr. Spence. "We want more control put back into the law, and a little less sale."

More alcohol is being consumed in beer than in all other types of beverage combined, Mr. Spence declared, pointing to the increased sale of beer in the province.

Mayor Davison suggested at this point that the increase in beer sales was partly attributable to improved conditions in business, and in the fact that people now have more money to spend.

Agreeing to this suggestion, Mr. Spence maintained his contention that the change in regulations in 1934 was undoubtedly a factor in the increased sale of beer.

On a discussion of hours of sale of beer, Mr. Spence said the Alberta Liquor Control Board had "transcended" its powers under Section 17 of the Government Liquor Control Act.

Mr. Davison said he disagreed with this statement.

"The Liquor Control Act says, 'No government liquor store shall be open for the sale of liquor (a) after the hour of eight o'clock in the afternoon of any day or such later hour, if any, as may be fixed by the Board as the hour for closing a store pursuant to this act.'"

Matters to be taken up by the Temperance Forces at later sittings of the committee will include local option, issuance of permits, the Liquor Control Board report, "tied" houses, and moral control in hotels, the witness stated in closing his remarks.

QUESTION PERIOD
In a question period, Mr. Spence said he represented the churches of Alberta before the committee, and that the churches' combined memberships were in the hundreds of thousands.

Mayor Davison: "Did you ever check up to see how many church members hold liquor permits?"

"Do you believe the majority of people in Alberta want prohibition?" Mr. Spence was asked. "I'd like to know," he replied.

"We never had prohibition, and never will have it, if we define it as the state when liquor traffic is absolutely suppressed. No more than we will ever have 100 per cent honesty."

Alex. C. Young, representing the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' union, and vice-presdent of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, was next witness. He recommended dropping the quota system for licensed premises, and suggested that they be supplied with enough beer to meet requirements.

Mr. Young contended the working man has a right to a moderate amount of beer and alcohol, and that a tendency towards complete prohibition was contrary to the democratic way of life.

He called for changes in liquor store hours, to permit working men to make purchases conveniently, citing the case of beer dispensers, who work the same hours as those during which the liquor stores are open.

PROTEST GLASSES
"General complaints" exist in regard to glasses in beer parlors being too small, said Mr. Young. He said it was not possible to fill up the seven and one-half ounce glasses, owing to the "head" on beer.

He called for a check being taken on hotels that did not abide by control board regulations regarding hours of sale and price.

Beer sells for $2.30 a dozen pints at liquor stores, but he understood that beer was being sold from unlicensed premises at the price of $5 a case after hours, the witness stated.

"More or less of a black market," said Mr. Davison. "It appeared that way, Mr. Young replied."

Mr. Gerhart, committee chairman, suggested at the conclusion of Mr. Young's evidence that he might be called later to give further evidence in connection with what could be regarded as charges. The witness said he was ready to comply to the fullest possible extent.

Next witness was W. J. Williams, secretary-manager of Edmonton Branch, the Canadian Legion. He appeared in support of the brief submitted by the Legion's provincial command.

The city branch of the Legion has grown to some 170 members in the last year, said Mr. Williams. Of the increase from 700 members, some 600 new members were returned from the present war.

The Legion club's quota for beer was based on 1942 membership figures, and this meant less beer for all members.

The men who have returned from overseas duty with the forces should be able to take full advantage of club privileges, Mr. Williams told the committee.

He told of patrons or licensed premises rushing from one establishment to another, in order to get in on hourly "draws" now in vogue at some of them.

Speaking of experiences in England during this war, Mr. Williams said he never saw the "guzzling" of beer that is going on here. He questioned whether any more beer would be sold in the province, if restrictions were relaxed.

H. D. Lynn, president, Edmonton unit, Army and Navy Veterans' Association of Canada, asked for an increased quota of beer for his club, present quota are to be revised. He supported Mr. Williams' arguments in respect to increased membership in requesting the quota increase.

Charge that the Dominion government, when it lifted the restrictions it had imposed on the sale of beer, knew there was not enough malt available to breweries to alter conditions to any great extent, was made by Carl E. Berg, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, on behalf of the Alberta Federation of Labor, when he appeared before the committee.

Mr. Berg said that a "vicious monopoly" existed in the three prairie provinces.

PUT VICTORY FIRST

*We
the Fight...*

THE assault is on! Nothing must be held back for everything is at stake. And as the fight reaches new climaxes of fury, it becomes ever more important, in Churchill's expressive phrase, to "nourish the fight". We must keep more and more supplies flowing to our fighting fronts... supplies which are now being used up on a greater scale than ever.

Don't let us fail this lifeline of supply. Let us give our fighting men everything... guns, ammunition, equipment... endless supplies in overwhelming quantities in order to smash the enemy by sheer weight of metal and weapons... and thus to help save lives.

Each and every one of us must ask himself "Am I doing all I can to nourish this fight? With renewed realization of the task before us, with new determination to see it through, let us pledge ourselves to buy all the Victory Bonds we possibly can.

*Nourish—and finish—the fight
by buying more Victory Bonds!*
